Weiner Mission

As a direct reflection of $WENR's name, Weiner Finance created a cryptocurrency that is committed to making charitable donations to various organizations as they pertain to the safety and preservation of weiners. Such organizations include the Testicular Cancer Foundation, the Prostate Cancer Foundation, the Movember Project, and many others. Through the trading of $WENR, donations will continually increase, in turn working towards effective treatments and potential cures to the ailments of male reproductive health.

A Weiner is the most important thing a man owns, so protect it at all costs.

Introduction

$WENR is a community-focused DeFi cryptocurrency aiming to help everyone keep their Weiner healthy. Our goal is to provide charitable donations to different organizations around the globe fighting testicular and prostate cancer among others. Such donations are driven by the community and are achieved through price movement of the token. $WENR tokens will be converted to $ETH at market cap goals of $1M, $10M, $100M and so on, to various foundations centered around male reproductive health. Donation receipts and Organizational interactions will be provided when confirmation is received from these organizations, which will then be posted on our social media platforms. We aim to bring positivity to the world by working together through the trading of $WENR, saving all wieners.

$WENR started when a group of crypto enthusiasts joined forces to provide a stable charity coin free from the countless rug-pulls/pump and dumps of meme tokens in crypto space.

Weiner is run by six developers with help from a dedicated marketing and design team. As the crypto grows, Weiner Finance seeks to expand its team by adding even more valuable members who are dedicated to our weiner saving mission statement.

The $WENR team believes in the amazing potential of Decentralized Finance(DeFi) as a crypto based form of finance that is separate from central financial institutions. Our talented organization has bonded together through the fun and in depth journey of raising $WENR to its current day heights, and stays diligent in creating a brighter future.
